SATURDAY EVENING, MARCH 30.

VOL. 29...... NO 10,084

Entered at the Post-Office at New York as second-class

FALSEHOOD CANNOT PREVAIL.

The Herald makes an atrocious attack upon the Children's Bill. Its statements are a tissue of lies and misrepresentations. Its arguments are flimsy and pointless.

If the Herald had any particular influence we would take the trouble to nail its numer. ous falsehoods seriatim. If the Herald had reputation for consistency with anywould show from its own where it has supported the proposed sction it now condemns. But such rovoked journalistic exhibition of jealousy and malice, by a sheet devoid of influence or consistency, may be safely left to the judgment of the public.

THE EVENING WORLD is somewhat youthful, but it is not afraid of the New York Herald. It is not afraid of Mr. GERRY. It is not afraid of all the Bureaucrats and all their allies combined.

A just cause knows no defeat.

JUSTICE FOR CHILDREN.

Mr. Elbridge T. Gerry would deny to Innocent children and to victimized parents the right accorded to the meanest criminal -the right of appeal from the commitment of a Police Justice which now sends the unprotected little ones to irrevocable separation from their parents.

With what an Assemblyman well called " malignant philanthropy," this insolent bureaucrat has inspired an attack upon the bill granting the right of appeal, on the plea that "it would send back to infamy those children who have once been taken from the snares of an evil life." This sounds like Aminadab Sleekism run wild.

What reason is there for the insulting charge that the Judges of the Supreme Court would do this thing? Are the Police Justices alone infallible? Is Mr. GERRY, with his hypocritical and inconsistent posing, the only friend of poor children in this city? He is interested in getting for his Society (whose work we have often approved) per capita percentages for all the children he can capture, and he resorts to very dirty lobbying to retain powers which Judge BARRETT has characterized as "autocratic," and which we have shown in specific cases to have been abused.

They say that the present law has stood for a hundred years. So did the law for imprisonment for debt. An abuse is not less an abuse because it is hoary. Judges BARRETT, BRADY, ANDREWS, LAWRENCE, PATTERSON and BEACH have indorsed the amendment. Public sentiment sustains it. Justice requires it. And we do not believe that either the pedigree or the purse of Mr. GEERY can defeat it.

It Demands Only Justice. In the Editor of The Evening World:

Ought it not strike common-sense people as tery strange that Mr. Gerry and the Herald save such a fear of the Children's Protective bill now before the Assembly, being passed? The subject matter of this bill is that there is "no power without justice," and this and this only is what it demands for poor children. What possible harm can be done in the provision of this bill, authorizing a rehearing within thirty days of these poor children so kidn speed? It would seem by reading between the lines that there is a seriew loose somewhere of a monetary nature, which, if tightened by the law, will curtail the emoluments of the institution and protect the child. tect the child. Wm. Benson, 337 East Forty-third street.

A Piece of Malice and Spite.

To the Editor of The Evening World:

My attention was called by a friend of mine to an editorial in this day's Herald, and having carefully read it, together with a statement in mother part of said paper of Elbridge T. Gerry. the so-called philanthropic agent for the Society for Prevention of Cruelty to Children, I have no doubt it is a concoction made up between them to try and defeat by all and every means THE EVENING WORLD'S humane bill.

Now a greater piece of treachery, falsehood and fable to defeat the ends of justice, all through malice and spite for a fellow contemporary, I have never read. READER.

CHICKERING HALL.

Dr. Greene's Spring Course of Magnificently Illustrated Lectures.

Dr. Greene, of 35 West 14th st., New York, the eminent specialist in the cure of nervous and chronic diseases and lamous lecturer, will deliver a Spring course of grand free lectures, magnificently illustrated by the most beautiful dissolving views, in Chickering Hall on Monday, Thesday, Wednesday and Thursday evenings, April 1, 2, 3 and 4, at 8 o'clock. On Wednesday and Thursday evenings the Doctor will give free private illustrated lectures to gentlemen only, and on Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock there will be a free private illustrated lecture to ladies only. Admission is free to all lectures.

Riker's Compound Sarsaparilla w and purifies the blood and invigorates the Try it. It contains no MERCURY. FOTASH of Co. while its effect is quicker and far more satistical and other. In fact, we guarantee it to do expect or agree to return your money. Estra ottles (17% ounces). 75 cents. Only two doess a ded. heeded having RIEEE's SARSAPARILLA and you are stay on having RIEEE's SARSAPARILLA and you are ively sure of ours. Do not allow any one to pegis you otherwise. Sold by almost all dealers. If foreignt returns to supply you, you can be sure of fing what you ask for at the dry-goods houses and such stream, or direct from W. B. RIEEE & Sow, 350 are, near 22d st., New York.

Not Invited. Mrs. Backbay-Were you at the "Marriage of

OUR NATIVE LASS.

How She Is Described by "The Evening World" Readers.

EUBSCRIFTION TO THE EVENING EDITION Glowing Descriptions of the Typical American Maiden.

> This Contest Is by War the Most Suc cessful One.

THE AMERICAN GIRL CONTEST

A gold double eagle is offered for the best description at a typical American siri in 200 words or less. The contest is open to all. Nellie Biy is No contribution is to exceed the limit, and all must be teritten on one side of the paper only. The successful description with the name and address of the writer will be published at the close of the contest. All contributions should be addressed " American Girl Contest." THE EVENING WORLD, New York.

The White House Ex-Mistress. My Idea of a typical American girl is expressed the three following words: "Mrs. Grover

This Is Libellous. Two hundred words? Ridiculous! One's enough: "Vality."
THE FATHER OF EIGHT OF EM.

Short and Sweet. My description of the American girl I venture to express by three words: Rich, Rare and > n American girlt I erry.

> nergetic,
> omantic,
> ndependent,
> harming.

A ttractive. N oble. G raceful, I nflexible emarkably

R. H-BO

The Equal of Apy One. Her most redeeming characteristic is independence; she is of an affectionate disposition. but not too much so; a lover she admires, and a nusband she adores as she does her own family. Horses and dogs are her pets, and books, the pen and brush her favored companions. She graces both kitchen and parlor. In politics she is independent—willing to study "the condition which confronts us." She is not a Prohibitions independent -willing to read, which confronts us." She is not a Prohibitionist, believing that there are times in the life of woman when she requires liquor as a stimulant, as the babe and the aged do when the hand of sickness lies heavily upon them. Everybody is her equal—if they behave themselves—and she is the equal of everybody.

145 West Thirty-fourth street.

Somewhat of a Sport.

The American girl-the American girl, with her high-polished ways and her teeth white as pearl—she's a '' dairy." a dear that not one can excel. Not a duchers or queen can behave half as well. She can paddle a boat or can shoot off as well. She can paddle a boat or can shoot off a gun, and for riding a horse she no doubt takes the bun. She can whip any man within reach of her fist. She's a "corker" at cards, be it sucher or whist. She's a "dandy" at poker, and can "rake in" a "pot" with the touch of a veteran when "straight flushes she's got. The poor jay who's playing has two pair, but he moans as he "sees" her 'till house, "and he loves twelve "bones." She's a girl who has "go." she's as smart as a whip. On horse-racing she o'er has received a "sure tip." We award the "cake" to the American girl, so for honor to her let our banners unfur!

W. H. G.

Independence a Strong Trait. When asked to describe a true type of the American girl, our first thought is that of a moderately fine-looking, medium-sized, elender oung woman. On being introduced to her, our first impression would be a favorable one. first impression would be a favorable one. In spite of her ladylike demeanor, you cannot but notice a certain it dependence of manner. This trait is noticeable in her dress, in her amusements and also in her choice of vocation for life. If she chooses and her pocketbook is deep enough she may enter the finest seminaries and receive training for almost any position in life. It may be to instruct the minds of the youth, or to receive her diploma as an M. D., or even to be admitted to the bar as an I.L. D. Or, as a few brave women have chosen, and have succeeded so well in doing, acting as a reporter. Who can tell the good results accomplished by our sixters in revealing the mysteries of some of who can tell the good results accomplished to our siters in revealing the mysteries of some our institutions? Need we wonder at this it born trait of independence in our America gurls? No; we are the daughters of the sons independence.

Worthy of All Honor.

She is independent (in a proper spirit), frank in her manner, and proud of her honor and purity. She shows great love and respect to her parents, and is eager to make home pleas-ant and beautiful. She shows great sympathy ant and beautiful. She shows great sympathy and charity for the weak and oppressed, and is ever ready to relieve the sorrow or suffering of her feilow-creatures. Besides these very good qualities, she is industrious and enterprising, and in personal appearance she is modest and neat, and thinks more of personal comfort than of a great and gaudy display. To me she is as worthy an heiress to all that embraces the meaning of the real lady-to all the nobility, purity and honor that was ever attached to the name of woman—that the world ever produced. Give me the American girl, first, last, and all the time.

JOHN SHERWOOD, ir.

195 Kent street, Brooklyn, E. D.

Sublime to Ridiculous.

The American girl is inclined to be indepen-dent, is well educated, nearly always able to ment. Dresses well, and always in the latest style. Has a good figure, small bands and feet, and a head well set on her shoulders. Can conduct heraelf as a lady anywhere, no matter what her position may be. Can also conduct a dog by a string, and the higher the girl's position the better for the dog. The American girl is able to take care of herself from a mere child, if she ever was one. There is no country in the working American girl and it seems as in the working American girl and it seems as in the working American girl and it seems as if they all knew how to work. She is fend of society and incidentally of ice cream. Generally has a beau or two ready to take her to see the latest play. She positively revels in sarcasm at the expense of her frieuds, with the heat two able to take care of herself from a mere child, if she ever was one. There is no country in the world where you will find the same intelligence as in the working American girl, and it seems as if they all knew how to work. She is fond of society and incidentally of lee cream. Generally has a beau or two ready to take her to see the latest play. She positively revels in sarcasm at the expense of her friends, with the best intentions, of course.

Not Very Complimentary. The American girl is well shaped and fine featured. She is brainy and intelligent, self-wiled and independent. Her taste is good, her tact is superb, her cooking is horrible. She can adapt herself to the lowlest work with good grace, and she can move with the bearing and manners of a princess in the society of the bluest blood. Her desires may be the simplest and also the most extrawagant. Her love is strong, her fickieness stronger, her craving for sweetmeats the strongest. However, to describe her correctly in her many good traits and few shortcomings you need the pen of a Stockton or Howell, and 200 words would not do.

S. BOLINGER, 337 East Seventy-minth street.

Something to Be Proud Of.

The physical construction is, I suppose, hardly to be considered; but, to outline my picture. let her be about 5 feet 7 inches in height, robust well, let her be one who is more attentive to de well, let her be one who is more attentive to de-veloping her mindrather than her complexion. Naturally honest, straightforword, not afraid to speak what she thinks, independent in every sense of the word, ready and willing to do a thing calone, if need be), confident of the fact of her shilty to take care of herself under any circumstance; well enough educated to talk on the subjects of the day, and to know when to stop talking; vivacious, ambitious, loving in nature, knowing how to grace a parior or kitchen, with credit to either; ever ready to lend a helping hand, and with a mind above the common frivolities of life; always ready for a good time, and with just a touch of masculine in her nature, to make her a favorite and at ease with either sex; sticking to her own idioms, original in her ideas, but never forgetting the fact that that she is a woman, American born, and as such, something to be prout of. Huyzs, 417 West Twenty-second street.

Figure "the other evening ?

Mr. Newcash—No, ma'am! I wasn's invited. INVANTS treated during teething with Mowney's Transmire Computat, are exempt from pain. Ros.

A Bachelor's Effusion. Like the institutions under which she lives, she is peculiar. She enjoys more freedom and independence than did her grandmother when a a girl, and at sweet seventeen can give the old lady points. She possesses equal privileges with lady points. She possesses equal privileges with men—except the right to vote and to propose matrimony; and these she is fighting for with an ardor that increases with her are. Goes out alone; travels alone; can be trusted anywhere. While she is capable of taking care of herself under any and all circumstances, the fancy sometimes strikes her to take a male friend along, in whom she places boundless confidence. She is essentially good and truthful, and lets you see her moral nature just as it exists, deceiving nobody. In dress she leads the world-is virtually the originator of French fashions. Before marriage she gives heart and soul to is virtually the originator of French fashions. Before marriage she gives heart and soul to amusement, and after marriage her twenty-second burthday occurs. Until then and frequently afterwards; she is self-supporting, while she is her own hoss whether married or single. She is always healthy, light-hearted, tender and affectionate—a wild plant put in a hot-house. Men of all countries adore her, but it is only Americans who will marry her without first inquiring into her papa's bank account. She has no love for dudes; while by her example, her history and her labors she has elevated the condition of her sisters of every clime.

BACHELOR.

BACHELOB. An Example for the Non-Typical. The typical American girl is tall, dignified and omewhat reserved in her bearing. Owing to the popularity of athletics among young ladies. her form is beautifully rounded out, and a healthy color is always present. Her features are healthy color is always present. Her features are clearly cut, and there is an expression of firmuess about the month, giving character to the whole face. The nose is Grecian, but is too frequently surmounted by a pair of eye-glasses. The eyes and hair are brown, neither very dark nor very light; and the effect is completed by a Directoire gown and a kiling little toque. Her intellectual development is fully as line as her physical. It seems delightful to converse with a girl without having to mention the weather. In brief, the typical American girl, as the now exists, is a grand example for the "non-typical" ones to emulate.

Charles Louis Polland.

1463 Park avenue, City.

A Poetical Description.

She is exceedingly jaunty and protty,
Very intelligent, quick and witty;
Cannot be easily awed or abashed.

Sat down on, crushed or otherwise "mashed."
Always dresses to look as well as she can
Always dresses to look as well as she can Alice on as to look like a man).
A little extravagant, perhaps, in her taste.
But not at all about the waist.
She will marry a duke to be a duchess,
Or el-e off with her father's coachman rushes;
Has also a great weakness for ugly pugs,
Easter bonnets, ice-cream and jewelled bugs.
She oan do more talking to the square inch,
Wear tighter shoes that "never pinch."
Carry a larger tournure with greater case
Than any of her sisters over the seas,
If it so happens she is obliged to work,
You will find in her no lazy shirk.
Independent ever as "Pigs in Clover."
You'll not find her equal the wide world over.
She is brave if a burglar gets in the house,
But faints at the sight of a very small mouse.
A deicate someon of slang she uses.
Which, if it doesn't instruct at least amuses.
Does she flirt? Well, I suppose, some,
And, oh, ye gods, can't she chew.gumi A Poetical Description.

Nature's Noblest Work. She is a self-reliant, rollicking, frolicking creature, with a depth of tenderness as unfathomable as the ocean and an ambition as lofty as the skies. She is enterprising, thoughtful, industrious and thrifty; with an eye to the future she knows how to enloy the present. With friends she enters with childlesh spirits into every pleasure; with strangers she is dignified, coy, retiring and discreet. In her native land she is a permanent institution, of which the natiou boasts. Abroad, he is oround without being obtrusive, inquiring without being inquisitive. With a bearing like a queen and the poise of a Juno, she does not despise to earn her own living. She seeks self-education and view with the sterner sex in mental attainments and personal ability. She can be trusted and appreciates the confidence bestowed upon her by performing more than was expected. She honors her parents as her guiding angels, her big brother is to her the personification of all manly qualities, the arbiter of her differences and the object of her pride. In an emergency she is calm and coliected, her presence of mind does not forsake her. She rises above the occasion and is by long odds Nature's noblest work. she knows how to enjoy the present. With

The Quintessence of Nobleness,

A being who possesses a character of her own, original as it is grand. One who thinks for herself and acts according to her judgment, without regard to the opinions of snobs and toadles. Proud of her country, yet still prouder of her name. A loving daughter, a kind sister and a true wife. One who fills whatever station in life may be allotted to her with dignity and honor. Or, to be brief, the quintessence of all that is grand whenever distinguished and noble in woman. S. H. McFappga. visitors reach the school

Sixteenth street, Bath Beach, N. V. The Wonder of This Century.

Less phlegmatic than her British cousin, and less "spirituelle" than her French counterpart. she is a happy combination of both. Attractive in her manner and in possession of unbounded liberty, she commands the admiration and respect of all by her unaffected simplicity. Her dress, though quiet in style, is the result of taste and rethement; her speech, vivacious and sparkling, shows evidence of breeding and education. She shines both in the social world and in the home circle. Reaching the pleutiude of her youth ul charms in her nineteenth year, she stands on the threshold of budding womanhood at twenty-one in the full perfection of grace and beauty. Take her all in all, this progressive nineteenth century, with its many marvellous developments, has evolved no brighter creation.

E. Sandrond Proram.

71 West One Hundred and Twenty-seventh street. liberty, she commands the admiration and re-

She Deffer Competition. The typical American girl is a National institution a natural sequence of American modes, methods and manners. Impossible to any other country, she is inevitable here. Hampered by sing and dance and play on some musical instru- no traditions, she stands forth fearless and bold,

At Her Best in Her Home. The American girl has an individuality truly original. Tis her remarkable brightness that first draws attention, and then, as our acquaintance become more intimate, we find her as witty as she is refined, as quick to recent as a as witty as she is refined, as quick to resent as a desire to please. In copyer-ation she convinces her listener of her quick perception and general knowledge. In d. ess and carriage she is neat and graceful, but its at her home where we see her at her best, for no matter how molerate her circumstances she surrounds herself with cosiness and comfort by explaining good American taste. That proves her a housekeeper. Above all, she is thoroughly competent to take care of herself, for the privileges that are accorded her and the freedom she enjoys gives her an independence of spirit which is grandly praiseworthy. She has fanits, of course, but conceit, arrogauce and trickery rarely enter into her composition, and so by her love for her home, coupled with good sense and judgment, she makes a model wite and mother in the greatest country under the heavens. KENILWORTH.

An Important Feature. Politician-What sort of a watch is that? Jeweller-It is a repeater, sir. Politician—I'il take it.
While counting his money the customer starts, stops short, turns pale and anxiously inquires: "Say, mister, is she Republican or Democratic?"

Cheer Up Your Home. Everybody has a Rochester Lamp but you. Thousand at 1201 Broadway and 25 Warren st. BOGERSTER LAMP CO.

Primary School Pupils Who Are the Pride of Their Teachers.

A Gallery of Portraits from Old No. 14 in the Fourth Ward.

It Boasts a Seven-Year-Old Mathema tician and Other Prodigies.

The inauguration last week of THE EVENING World's gallery of bright school children has aroused a marvellous amount of interest among the little folks of the primary schools, and it is gratifying to learn from numbers of the teachers that it has already resulted in a lively com petition for the honors and a place in the list of 'immortals" among their small charges.

To-day the Fourth Ward is represented, and the portraits which are given are those of the youthful prodigies of Primary School No. 14. This is one of the famous institutions of tha classic district, and not a few of the prominent citizens and statesmen born and brought up in that neighborhood can look back to the time when their young ideas were first taught to when their young ideas were first taught to shoot in the old red brick school-house down on Oliver street.

The present Principal of the school, which is one of the largest and most flourishing downtown, is Mrs. M. F. Donnegan. The population of the ward is extremely co-mopolitan, containing a large propertion of Italian, Spanish, Irish and Gorman residents besides the native-born Americans, and these nationalities are represented among the pupils of the school.

In the list of seven which is presented to-day it will be seen that among the children who have been selected from the three hundred or more in attendance at the school as the brightest a considerable proportion are of foreign parentage. They are taken from the four upper grades.

The first is Sebastiana Vergonas, whose parents are Spaniards and live at 67 Oliver street. Sebastiana is twelve years old and has attended the school for three years. She is now almost ready for promotion to the Grammar Department. When she entered the school for three years, she is now almost ready for promotion to the Grammar Department. When she entered the school for three years at school, and is 12 years old, but he has made as much progress in his two years schooling as many children would in twice thas time. Johnnie is the mathematician of the class, and has made a reputation among the boys as a lightning calculator. The primary grade arithmetic is too easy for him, and he cand do sums in his head

JOHN SMITH. second grade is Murray scholars of the class, being only seven years and four months old. He became a pupil of the school when only five years old, but even at that tender age it was observed that he had a large and well developed head. He is a bright reader and possessen a fine imagination, and is remarkable for his ability to solve mathematical problems. His remarkable for his ability to solve mathematical problems. His teache s ray that his teache s ray that his work mathematical problems. His teache s ray that his guickness is astonishing for one so young.

Eda Castellaro, who is ten years old, is a little Italian girl. She has been at school two year and a half, and excels in manual work. She takes to sewing naturally and is very quick and neat in her work, standing first in her class in this respect. She has made such good progress that she can now make all

CLARFNCE DUPOUR. CLARENCE DUFOUR. boys.

When Rosie Santopietro, his companion in the third grade, entered the school a year and a half ago, she could not speak a word of English. Now she can talk it with any of the children in the school, and at the same time she retains a fluent command of the liquid Tuscan. She is ten years old and lives at 58 Rooseveit street. She Roosevelt street.

want of practical ROSIE SANTOPIETRO.

e tourth grade. She is tweive years old, and lives at 88 New Chambers street. Her forte is spelling and arithmetic, and it would be hard to catch her on any of the stickers in the primary spelling-book. Her teachers also praise her for her excellent deportment. She has not been long in Mise Donnegan's school, yet has already shown such cleverness as to make her rapid promotion a matter of course.

He Wanted an Axe.

Tramp (to woman who has given him a loaf of stale bread .- Now, if you'll show me the way to the wood-shed I'll get the axe and—

'Why, you dear old fellow, you mustn't think of cutting wood; you're too weak."

'Oh. I didn't want the axe for that. I just thought that I'd like to cut off a chunk of this bread—if I've got strength enough."

DIAMONDS.

Messrs. THEODORE A. KOHN & SON, Jewellers, 56 West 23d st., invite an inspection of selected Gems in fine settings. Late of A. Frankfield & Co.

For a good spring medicine we confidently recomnend Hood's Sarsaparilla. By its use the blood is purified, enriched and vitalized, that tired feeling is entirely overcome and the whole body given strength and vigor. The appetite is restored and sharpened, the should do so this season. It is a thoroughly honest and taken it with benefit testify to its peculiar curative

Hood's Sarsaparilla

"I took Hood's Sarsaparilla for loss of appetite, dyspepsia and general languor. It did me a vast amount of good, and I have no hesitancy in recommending it." J. W. WILLEFORD, Quincy, Ill.

That Tired Feeling "For a first-class spring medicine my wife and I think very highly of Hood's Sarsaparilla. We both took setter through the hot weather than ever before. It ared my wife of sick headache, from which she has suffered a great deal, and relieved me of a dixzy, tired feeling. I think every one ought to take something to purify the blood before the hot weather comes on, and we shall take Hood's Sarsaparilla this spring." J. H. PEARCE, Supt. Granite Ry. Co., Concord, N. H.

Sarsaparilla is found in the article itself. It is merit that wins, and the fact that Hood's Sarsaparilla actually accomplishes what is claimed for it, is what has gained its firm and constantly increasing hold upon the

The Spring Medicine

The chief reason for the marvellous suc

has given Hood's Sarsaparilla the largest sale and made

If you need a good medicine to purify your blood, giv ron an appetite, or build up your nerve, mental or bodily strength, try Hood's Sarsaparilla this season. Blood Poison

"For years, at irregular intervals in all seas suffered the intolerable burning and itching of blood poisoning by ivy. It would break out on my legs, in my throat and eyes. Last spring I took Hood's Sarasparilla, as a blood purifier, with no thought of it as a special remedy for tvy poisoning, but it has effected a permanent and thorough cure." Calvin T. Shutz, Wentworth, N. H. "Hood's Sarsaparilla cured me of blood potson, gave me a noble appetite, overcame headsche and dizziness, so that now I am able to work again." LUTHER NASON, tiood's Sarsaparilla is prepared from Sarsapa Dandelion, Mandrake, Dock, Juniper Berries and other well known vegetable remedies, in such a peculiar man-ner as to derive the full medicinal value of each. It will cure, when in the power of medicine, scrofuls, salt overcomes that extreme tired feeling caused by change of climate, season, or life, and imparts life and strength to the whole system. "Early last spring I was very much run down, had nervous headsche, felt miserable and all that. I was very much benefited by Hood's Sarsaparilla and recom-mend it to my friends." Miss. J. M. TAYLOR, 1118 Euclid ave., Cleveland, O. Scrofula Humor

Hood's Sarsaparilla

"My little boy, for whom I procured Hood's Sarsa-parilla, was so badly afflicted with scrotula that the whole top of his head was one complete mass of matter.

I doctored with him 2 years and found no relief, and then I heard of Hood's Sarsaparilla. I gave him one bottle, and there was a most wonderful im I then got one bottle more and that cured him com-pletely. I would not be without Hood's Sarsaparille in the bouse. I give it to my children for a spring medicine." Mrs. H. D. LEROY, 1641 Hogan st., St. Louis, Mo.

100 DOSES ONE DOLLAR

champions with us this season will end in suc

Keep up the good work and you will be sure to keep our Giants in New York City and have the good wishes of every one. Yours, W. Stuart, Hall's, Thirty-seventh street.

All Are " Wid " Us.

Inclosed please find petition by John Morgan and James Carroll, I would also state that all the employees of John Morgan-fifty in number

-are all in favor of the Polo Grounds remaining. Hoping your movement in the matter will be successful, yours very truly, JOHN MOROAN, P. H. MORGAN.

Comes with a List.

successful in maintaining the Polo Grounds for

A Regular Reader.

I am a regular reader of your Evening WORLD.

and take a great interest in the Polo Grounds question. Why not let the people have those grounds for the season of 1889, and let the baseball enthusiasts of this great metropolis see

For Handy Baseball.

Herewith please find a few names in the cause

our baseball pets. Yours truly,
H. DENNERT AND M. PARIS,
131 Greenpoint avenue

We, the undersigned, trust that you will be

Hood's Sarsaparilla Hood's Sarsaparilla Hood's Louis, 200. Hood's Sarsaparilla Hood's Louis, 200. Hood's Sarsaparilla Hood's Louis, 200. Ho Sold by all druggists. $1; six for $5. Prepared only | Sold by all druggists. $1; six for $5. Prepared only | Sold by

PICKED UP PARAGRAPHS.

100 DOSES ONE DOLLAR

FLOTSAM AND JETSAM FROM THE OCEAN OF FUN.

Giving the Old Man Away. [From Judge.]

Fond Father-What are you going to be when you grow up ? Son-A man, sir. Fond Father-What will you do when you are a man? Son-Do the same as you do, and kiss the servant girls.

A Sin and a Shame. (From Time.) Darringer-What is your opinion about Sunday ball-playing at Ridgewood? Pompano (emphatically)-It is awful and ought to be stopped.

Darringer—That's what I say. There used to be good shooting around there, but now the players and spectators make such a racket that when I went gunning last Sunday I didn't see a feather.

Scarcity of Revolutionary Pedigrees. [From the Phitadelphia Record.]

Philadelphia Dame-I hear the New Yorkers had some trouble over the selection of the ladies to open the Centeunial ball?

Boston Dame—Yes, I believe the difficulty was to find eight society ladies in New York whose ancestors did not land at Castle Garden.

[From Towns S(fittings.]]
Baxter--Why, helio Springs, haven't seen you for a long time. Still moulding public opinion are you?

Baxter—Ah, what are you doing?

Baxter—Ah, what are you doing?

Spriggs—Running a new-paper in Cleveland. Your interest in trying to keep the "world's terfere with her business." Spriggs-No, I have quit journalism.

OUR BALL GROUNDS Heroic Efforts Being Made to Keep

100 DOSES ONE DOLLAR

Them Intact.

If the Board of Aldermen refuse to order the grading of One Hundred and Eleventh street there is no doubt but what Lawyer Duyster, of the Metropolitan Amnsement Company can ob tain injunctious restraining the Bureau of Street Encumbrances from further demolition of the Polo Grounds fence.

Meanwhile, the tearing down of the fence does not affect the matter at all, and should not be looked upon as a disastrous omen. The Aldermen will meet on Tuesday, when the matter will be practically settled one way or the other, but meanwhile a fresh batch of petitions will be sent them on Monday. Lose no time, then. Sign this petition and get all your friends to do the same. baseball enthusiasts of this great metropolls see the team which brought the championship pennant they won on the very grounds during the season of 1889 which they fought for so nobly?

Give them a chance to show their strength on the same old battlefield during the League season of 1889. All the baseball patrons of the Polo Grounds ask for is to let the champions finish the season upon the grounds on which they won their laurels of the past and may in the future if they be allowed to play on the famous Polo Grounds. I am a regular reader.

FRANCIS T. MURPER. get all your friends to do the same.

To the Board of Albernen of New Fork City:

The undersigned, residents of New York and vicinity and admirers of the National game, believing that it is not inconsistent with the majority of private interests involved, and knowing that it is in accordance with the desire and sentiments of the great majority of the public, that the Polo Grounds shall not be rendered unit for One Hundred and Eleventh street through the grounds, the

One Hundred and Eleventh street through the grounds.

Hereby petition your honorable body that no action providing for the grading of said street through the Polo Grounds shall be taken until after Oct. I next, thereby enabling the Polo Grounds to be used by the New York baseball public and its champion nine this season and affording ample time for the securing of permanent grounds for use in future seasons.

We base this petition purely upon public grounds, in the belief that the interests of the National game in the National metropolis merit the consideration and encouragement of the constituted authorities.

Paste on Paper for More Names.

In Time.

you are so gloriously championing to give us a "handy" baseball. Success to the enterprising World. Yours truly, J. S. Robinson. Good Work of the Milbanks. DEAR SIR: Inclosed find a petition of 110 names, secured by the President of the Milbank Athletic Club, of Harlem, N. Y. We all sin-Athletic Club, of Harlem, N. Y. We all sincerely hope you will succeed in your baseball attempt, as we worked pretty hard. We remain, yours truly. Perter G. OTTENDORFER. President M. A. C., 357 East One Hundred and Sixteenth street.

Jos. D. JONES, Secretary M. A. C., 410 East One Hundred and Fifteenth street.

to the Editor of The Evening World:

At a Theatrical Cafe.

[From the Paris Figure.] "How, my dear, still in Paris? I thought you had left for South America!" "Yes, that was my intention; but then, you and sores, that looked like ring worms, came out all over my body. I have taken three bottles of Burdock oers taken of Burdock had two case of his face and tters, and they are fast disappearing .- MRS.

coming on his peared. I think

-Mrs. WILLIAM

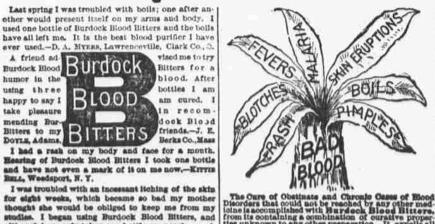

They Bloom in the Spring.

used one bottle of Burdock Blood Bitters and the bolls have all left me. It is the best blood purifier I have ever used .- D. A. MYERS, Lawrenceville, Clark Co., O. A friend ad Burdock Bood humor in the pains three bottles I am bottles I am using three Brood. happy to say I am cured. I in recomtake pleasure

Bitters to my BITTLERS friends.-J. E. Berks Co., Mass I had a rash on my body and face for a mostle.

Hearing of Burdock Edood Bitters I took one bottle and have not even a mark of it on me now.—Kittin Emil, Weedsport, N. Y.

I was troubled with an incessant itching of the skin for eight weeks, which became so bad my mother thought she would be obliged to keep me from my studies. I began using Burdock Blood Bitters, and although have only taken one bottle am nearly cured.

lip. He took your Burdock and it disap this medicine Mood purifier BITTERS

Elisa Shuman, dealer in Italian Bees, Ostawissa, Pa-says : I have used Burdock Blood Bitters for malaria.

GRO. L. TWIST, BOX 214, Corning, N. Y.

and it oured me. I used only one bottle and have he For eight years I was a sufferer from carbunded. Hearing of Burdock Blood Bitters I tried it. It cured them, and I have had no trouble from them Brausont, Breinigsvile, Lehigh Co., Pa.

SOLD BY DEVOSIEYS GENERALLS.